To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it for the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

The Election of Lincoln Conceded.

The Baltimore Patriot, the mostably conducted BELL-EVERETT journal in the United States, in its issue of September 7th, concedes the election of Mr. LINCOLN to be inevitable, and expresses the determination to make no further effort in behalf of its candidates. We quote:

"Under the full conviction, that the Presidential election is settled, and that nothing which we can do or say, can have any influence, in changing the inevitable result, now so obvious to every reflecting mind, we shall henceforward turn our specific attention to the promotion of education in Maryland, to the feasible scheme for opening the direct trade between Baltimore and Europe, to the improvement of agriculture and its kindred branches of tillage, to the extension of mechanical industry upon the soil of our own State, and to the encouragement of the inventive powers of Maryland minds.

In the remaining two months, therefore, of the Presidential campaign, which we regard as virtually ended, we shall content ourselves with merely noting its progress, as a matter of news, for the information and entertainment of our readers, but, as we have said, we shall direct our editorial energies to the promotion of the objects enumerated above, and in the pursuit of these labors, we hope to have the aid, assistance, and generous encouragement of all who sympathize with these things.

THE GREAT DOUGLAS BARBECUE at Jones' Woods, N. Y., on Wednesday last, seems to have been a rowdy affair. The roast meats were cold, the crowd ravenous. They tore down the fences, overturned the tables and the waiters, and a promiscuous scramble and fight ensued, in which meat, bread, crackers, &c., were used as missiles, or wantonly trod under foot and destroyed. The speakers, especially Mr. DOUGLAS, were annoyed by constant and disgraceful interruptions. Disorder reigned from first to last, and New York Democracy presented itself in its roughest and most Democratic aspect.—One of the DOUGLAS men entrusted with the purchase of hams for the barbecue, tried to turn an honest penny by making his purchases with counterfeit money. The result was his deposit in the Tombs.

HONEST FOR ONCE.—The Douglasite prints have been claiming that the nomination of that gentleman was "regular," inasmuch as he received two-thirds of all the votes cast had there been no secession from the Convention. But Mr. DOUGLAS himself, in his speech at Reading, Pa., the other day, gives the lie direct to these pretensions. He said: "I received a two-third vote in the convention after the bolt, but less than a two third vote of the whole convention"

Put that in your pipes and smoke it.

A SAUK COUNTY CITIZEN AT THE MASSACHUSETTS HORSE SHOW.—We observe in the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, in its report of the animals entered for premiums at the National Horse Fair, held there last week, following complimentary to Dr. MACKEY's team. We hope the Dr. will bring back a handsome prize:

"There is a long list of matched horses, (class 14,) and without being invidious we may name the horses of Dr. E. R. Mackey, of Reedsburgh, Wis., who has brought them from 200 miles beyond Milwaukee. They stand 16 hands, weigh over 1100 pounds each, and are justly remarked as among the best horses on the grounds."

POISONING CASES.—In Flint, Michigan, on Monday last, Mr. JOHN W. CLEVELAND and wife were very nearly poisoned to death by drinking bitters out of a glass in which strychnine that had been purchased to kill mice, was carelessly left.

JOSEPH BABCOCK, a worthy citizen of Tittabawasse, Saginaw county, having an attack of the ague, took a dose of strychnine out of mistake for quinine, and died in a few hours. The poison was left in a paper just beside the quinine.

HOW THE PRINCE SPENDS HIS MONEY.—The Prince sent $240 to the servants who attended him at Ottawa. On Tuesday he and his suite rode out some ten miles, from Toronto, and while they dismounted their horses were held by five men, to whom the Prince told Gen. BRUCE to give $20. BRUCE gave one of them a £5 note, with which he ran off, and was pursued and caught by the courtly General and KERWIN, the master of the horse.

STABBING AFFRAY AT GREEN BAY.—A Frenchman named JOSEPH DUPERRAUX, who keeps the "Hotel de Lafayette" at Bay Settlement, in the course of a quarrel, was stabbed by PETER L. GRIGNON, of Bellevue. He died on Monday. Mr. G. was arrested, examined, and held to bail. We hear it stated that the deed was done in self-defence, but do not know the facts.

Later.—We learn that the report of Mr. D.'s death is untrue. He is recovering.

WINNEBAGO COUNTY FAIR.—Next Thursday and Friday the Winnebago County Agricultural Society hold their Annual Cattle Show and Fair, on their Fair Grounds in Oshkosh. It ought to be the best and largest exhibition of the products of the soil ever had in that county, and we trust it will be such.

FIRE AT WHITEWATER.—On Monday night last, the brewery owned by EDWARD ROETHE, about a mile north of Whitewater, took fire and was entirely consumed, together with everything contained in it—Loss between three and four thousand dollars. Supposed to be the act of an incendiary.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.—The first Annual Fair of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society is to be held at Fort Snelling on the 26th, 27th and 28th insts. The Annual Address will be delivered on the second day of the Fair, by CASSIUS M. CLAY of Kentucky.

"THE GOSPEL OF THE KINGDOM," is the title of a paper proposed to be published at Wautoma about the first of October by N. K. BARKER & Co. It will be issued monthly, in quarto form, and will "advocate the views of the Adventists, and present before the world the Gospel of the Age to Come."

CARL SCHURZ addressed a Republican meeting in New York City, Thursday evening. At the close there was a torchlight procession in which ten thousand Wide Awakes participated.

GEN. CASS has recently presented a Methodist society of Detroit three lots of land, on which they will erect a church this season. The land is worth $8,000.

Accident on the Racine & Miss. R. R.

FOUR PERSONS INSTANTLY KILLED!

THIRTEEN BADLY INJURED!

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

DELAVAN, Wis., Sept. 15, 1860.

We are in quick succession after the loss of the Lady Elgin, called upon to record another and fatal accident on the Racine & Mississippi Railroad, by which four persons were instantly killed, and a fifth lived some five or six hours.

The names of the killed are Mrs. DAVIS, of Sharon; a boy by the name of CATLIN, of Darien, about 13 years old; a young man from Sharon, GEORGE STOOPPUL; Miss MARGARET SEAMAN, of this place; and Mr. BAKER, also of this place.

WILLIAM ZEWEL, of Johnstown in this County, it is feared, is fatally injured. Some ten or twelve others are more or less (but it is believed not fatally) injured.

The circumstances are substantially as follows: The evening train, due at this place at 6:50 last evening, was some five to ten minutes behind time. An extra train from Racine, was but a few minutes behind the mail. The mail train having stopped at the water tank, some six rods from the station, to take in water, the extra came dashing along at fearful speed, driving the engine into the passenger car of the forward train, splitting it from end to end.

The accident was, beyond a doubt, the result of gross carelessness on the part of those having charge of the trains, as no red light was out at the rear of the forward car, and no red light on the rear train.

A jury is now being empanelled to investigate the matter, the result of which I will at once communicate to you.

In much haste, truly yours,

A. H. B.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT DECIDED IN FAVOR OF THE GROVER & BAKER AND WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE COMPANIES.—At a late session of the United States Court, held at Cooperstown, Judge NELSON presiding, suit was brought against Geo. B. SLOAN, JAMES G. WILSON, JOHN B. GIBBS, and others, for infringement on what is known as the friction feed for sewing machines. Previous to the invention of A. B. WILSON's feed motion, cloth had to be passed under the needle by hand, or affixed to a frame called a baster plate, which was advanced with the cloth by a regular progressive motion, to the needle, through the agency of suitable machinery. This would admit of sewing only straight seams.

A. B. WILSON's invention, with the improvement of W. F. N. FITZGERALD, consists of an arrangement of two surfaces, that by an automatic intermittent motion of one or both would move the cloth forward and yet admit of its being turned so as to sew curved seams.

This decision fully sustains the validity of the claim of the GROVER and BAKER, and WHEELER and WILSON companies, to the rough surface feed, and decides that all machines embodying the leading principles of that feed, viz: clasping the cloth between two surfaces and moving them by an automatic intermittent motion, are infringements of the patents of those companies. The court accordingly directed injunction to be issued against the defendants.

This is an important decision, as all sewing machines use this feed. We may now look for a slaughter among sewing machines

Personal.

Sir George Simpson, the Governor of the Hudson Bay Company, died at Lachine, Canada, on Saturday at the age of 64 years. His name has long been honorably associated with the movements of British Companies in Canada, and he has been a most faithful and zealous officer of the organization in whose service he died. The honor of knighthood was conferred upon him by Queen Victoria in 1840, for his labors in behalf of discoveries in the Arctic regions, in connection with the explorations of Capt. Ross and Beck. His nephew, the late Mr. Thomas Simpson, conducted the enterprise, and, amid many difficulties and dangers, traced the Arctic coasts of America from the mouth of the Mackenzie river to Point Barrow, and from the mouth of the Coppermine river to the Gulf of Boothnia.

THE Prince of Wales and suite will be in Cincinnati between September 25 and 30. In reply to an invitation from the Mayor of that city, the Duke of Newcastle says that the Prince is obliged, on account of the shortness of the time at his disposal, to decline all invitations except that of the President, and he will take rooms at the hotels during his limited stay in the several cities which he visits.

MR. DICKENS is reported to be at work on a new novel, to make its appearence in the usual monthly shilling form, which is found to be the most profitable after all, as it would be difficult to make any serial pay £40,000 profit in twenty months, by running a novel through it. This sum was netted by Bleak House.

ON THURSDAY, Gen. Pierce was thrown from his wagon in Concord, N. H., his horse taking fright and turning suddenly. He was stunned and bruised, but not seriously injured.

"THE LIFE of Julius Cæsar, by Napoleon III," now in press at Paris, will be republished immediately on its appearance in this country, translated from an advance copy by Miss. Mary S. Booth.

HON. MARSHALL P. WILDER, has written a letter, peremptorily declining the nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, which many in the Bell and Everett party proposed to tender him.

MR. FORREST is meeting with great success in Baltimore. His Lear and Richelieu are especially praised.

COURAGE DISPLAYED BY THE WOMEN ON BOARD THE LADY ELGIN.—The calmness and heroism displayed by the women on board the Lady Elgin, at the moment of the disaster, and all through the dark voyage to the still more fearful breakers, was deserving of a better fate. Out of the very large proportion of women on board but a small number survived. It is the habit to attribute to women, in the hour of imminent danger, a nervous weakness that renders themselves helpless, and often disables and distracts the efforts of their cooler and stronger male companions. But one scream was heard on the Lady Elgin, and that was at the last moment, when the sea opened its dark jaws and with a roar and gurgle swallowed up the noble vessel from under their feet; then there went up a fearful and deathly scream from hundreds of despairing hearts. All through the many hours from this moment to the last unmerciful struggle, the few women who survived the foundering of the steamer, behaved with a courage, a persistency and endurance that deserved a better fate at the mad and relentless surf.—Mad. Patriot.

AT A CHURCH IN SPENCER, Worcester Co., Mass., on Sunday week, just before the Sacrament was offered, a man in the back part of the assembly rose and deliberately passing up the aisle to the table in front of the altar, seized one of the sacramental goblets with one hand and the large silver pitcher with the other, filled the goblet with wine, and turning to the audience coolly drank it off and returned to his seat. The amazement of the audience is something to be imagined, not described.

TWO VILLAINS lately entered the house of Mr. Gontz, near the Hellenville Postoffice. As it was early in the morning nobody was in but Mrs. Gontz, who was, in bed, and they presented pistols at her head and rifled a trunk in the room of $16. A brother-in-law of Mr. Guntz had come from Milwaukee, bringing with him several hundred dollars, and it is supposed that the robbers followed him. Both men are about 35 years of age, and they wore black hats.—Jefferson Co. Republican, 12th.

Barry's son, was on the same raft, but died some three hours before he reached shore. RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERERS.

We are glad to notice a very general movement in the direction of aid for the sufferers. The testimonial to the family of Capt. Wilson is being carried forward, and will be increased by liberal sums raised at Detroit, Buffalo and other lake cities.

Messrs. Hale & Ayer, iron merchants, on Wells street, have placed to the order of the Mayor of Milwaukee their check for $50, for the relief of the sufferers from that city.

Several of our musical associations are making preparations for benefits for the sufferers, the families left destitute, chiefly in our sister city Milwaukee.

THE SEARCH FOR THE BODIES.

Many names press upon us of those to whom credit is due for humanity and indefatigable zeal in the search for the remains of the lost. The large force of men employed by Sheriff Gray have proved themselves well chosen and they will leave no part of the shore to be searched by those human harpies whose only spur is the plunder of the dead.

The Supervisors have authorized the charter of a steam tug which will be out to-day, and others will be out in the service of private citizens, on this humane errand. To-day and to-morrow, being the eighth and ninth days, will bring most of the bodies to the surface. Indeed they are reported as very numerously afloat. The schooner Racine, Captain Brown, Commander, passed near Waukegan on Thursday evening, and reports having seen about one hundred bodies. The wind was so high that it was impossible for him to recover them.

Other lake crafts bring like reports, and to-day and to-morrow will give the Coroner's Jury and the undertakers full employment in their mournful offices.

DEATH CART. JACK WILSON.

It excited a thrill of emotion among the spectators and bystanders, then a large throng, as the body marked "No. 78," and identified as that of the late gallant commander of the ill fated steamer, was borne from the wagon into the dead-room. It was recovered in a special trip of the steam tug McQueen, about three miles off Winnetka, and nearly off the place where he fell a victim to his sublime heroism. A gold watch and chain were taken from the body by Capt. Prindiville, and the remains were placed in the hands of one of our undertakers, to be placed in a metallic burial case, ready for removal to the desolated home of the late brave sailor, in Coldwater, Mich.

There was little in the features that could be identified, decomposition having been rapid, and the violence with which the body was made the sport of the surf destroying all semblance to the countenance in which nature had not written one line of aught than manliness, courage, and a devotion to duty, nobly exemplified in the fate of him who could not seek his own safety in the raging surf while women and children claimed the exertions of his gallant arm.

The remains will be taken to the Richmond House, the Chicago home of Captain Wilson, and from thence will be this evening attended to the Michigan Southern cars by an escort which in numbers and character shall fittingly comport with the honor due the noble dead.

INCIDENTS.

Capt. Prindiville, owner of the McQueen, who was out with that gallant little steamer yesterday, informs us that about six miles off Winnetka, and manifestly not far from the exact spot of the disaster, is the entire forward portion of the hull of the Lady Elgin, partially submerged and riding at anchor. It is stripped of all the upper works, and on the larboard side cut off just where the fatal blow came, on the other side the frames and planking run further back. The hull is of course empty and naked. It was doubtless carried down with the engine, and, becoming released, has risen to ride at the anchors lent to the chain-cables at the bow. It floats to mark the spot where many a brave and loving heart perished from earth

STORM AT BARABOO.—To look over our paper during the past season, one would surely think this was the season par excellence of storms, but none so violent has yet been recorded in this town as the gale and thunder storm of last Friday night. It blew from various quarters, too. In Greenfield fences were blown to the west, showing an east wind. On the west side of this village, it came from the south-west, while on the north side it blew from the north. The lightning was terrific, though the thunder seemed not unusually heavy, and the rain fell in a perfect deluge. Could we have foreknown the loss of life it was in a few hours to occasion, we should have recognized in its fierce howls an almost demoniacal thirst for blood. May our lakes and towns be spared another such visitation.—Baraboo Republic.

NEW COLOR.—An art writer says:—During the past ten days, though the warm weather still continues, the change of color in the dresses which may be seen in Broadway, is as marked as the change which may be seen in the vegetable kingdom. Every one who is not so unfortunate as to be afflicted with color blindness, must have been made conscious of the incoming of a new tint, this season, in the world of fashion. A color of peculiar brilliancy must have been noticed in the show windows of milliners and dry goods dealers, fluttering from ladies' bonnets, spotting their dresses, edging their handkerchiefs, and now and then tied in very narrow strips around the throats of dressy young men. Last year this lovely hue raged in England, and was domesticated in France and occasional glimpses were had of it in Broadway. But not an eruption of it like scarlet fever, has broken out on this side of the Atlantic. The French call this new tint mauve, from its resemblance to the marsh mallow, which it does not much resemble, its nearest vegetable relative, in point of color, being a boiled beet, but the true name of it is Perkins' Purple, so called after the English chemist who first succeeded in extracting it from coal tar.

ADDRESS OF ABE LINCOLN.—We have received the Address of the Hon. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, in vindication of the policy of the Framers of the Constitution and the principles of the Republican party, delivered at the Cooper Institute, New York, Feb 27, 1860, and issued in pamphlet form now by the Young Men's Republican Club of that city. It is a valuable Campaign document, and we hope will be extensively circulated. The circular that accompanies it states:

We will furnish for $1 sixteen copies of Mr. Lincoln's Address, similar to the copy enclosed, or forth copies of a cheaper edition from the same type, but on ordinary paper, without a cover; or, if preferred, eight of the former and twenty of the latter.

We will also furnish associations with the cheap edition at $15 per thousand.

Direct your letters to E. Sterling, Box 1,098 Post Office, New York.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The State Sunday School Convention, which will be held in this city this week, promises, from all we can hear, to be largely attended by delegates from every section of Wisconsin. It is thought that RALPH WELLS, of New York, will be present. A number of prominent gentlemen, who are identified with Sunday School interests through the United States, are expected to be present. The session may, therefore, be looked forward to with a great deal of interest by all the Christian community here. At the close of the session on Thursday evening, a concert will be given by about three hundred children (connected with the various Sunday Schools of our city) at Albany Hall, the proceeds of which will be applied to defraying expenses of the Convention. We attended a rehearsal of the children on Saturday, and must say the music was very fine. The little ones acquitted themselves with honor.

BODIES FOUND.—A dispatch from Kenosha Saturday, says that a body was found two miles south of that place. Black broadcloth coat, satin vest, mixed cassimere pants, fine checked cravat; six feet high, with left leg three inches shorter than right; sandy complexion and no whiskers.

A gentleman who arrived from Racine Saturday afternoon states that eight bodies were picked up near that place, and several more were seen floating in the lake.

MILWAUKEE.—It is apparent to every one that our commercial metropolis is on the improve. The streets are more lively, and the travel is increasing gradually. The merchants and getting immense stocks of goods and preparing for a heavy trade this fall, which they will certainly get. Improvements there are the order of the day, and the great distress of hard times is passing quickly away. It is gratifying to us to see such signs of improvement. Milwaukee is going ahead rapidly. The people in the country should rejoice, and we believe they do.—Fox Lake Gazette.

BODY RECOGNIZED.—JAMES O'BYRNE, a shoemaker, was recognized by M. MURPHY, among the bodies brought here, by a private mark which he had made in the inside of the boot when he made the boots.

BODIES ARRIVED SATURDAY.—Seven bodies came up on the cars Saturday. Among them was that of GEO. F. OAKLEY, and another one was supposed to be JNO. DELURY, although there was some dispute about the latter.

WE ACKNOWLEDGE THE CORN.—CALEB WALL has just left with us an ear of corn, raised on his Lake Shore plantation, which is considerable over a foot long. This we consider pretty good, considering the city limits, and the hogs and cows.

MILWAUKEE FEMALE COLLEGE.—The Fall term of this institution will commence on September 20th, and continue thirteen weeks, ending on the 23d of December.—The prices of tuition will be found in our advertising columns.

SALE OF FURNITURE and two superior desks, carpets, &c., and various articles, comes off at CALEB WALL's city auction room, corner of Wisconsin and Main sts.

Another Lesson from the Calamity.

"All men think all men mortal but themselves," and even such calamities as the recent ones upon the Lake and Railroad, do not really startle us, and bring proper and serious thought in reference to our own mortality. We are still safe and are not going to die, at least, without due premonition, because, forsooth, "we are going to keep clear of excursions, and ride upon the cars as little as possible." Such are the feelings expressed, and unexpressed, of the great majority, and in a few days, when the dead shall have been buried, the world, except in the stricken households, will move on as though nothing had happened.

But how will it move in those households? Father or mother, or both, are gone, and in their place will come hunger and cold, and dwell there as occasional guests or constant inmates. Charity, meek-eyed, mild and heavenly, may sometimes enter and drive them forth, but, alas! her visits are too much "like angels' visits,"—few and far between"—and the light of her countenance will but seldom fall upon the pale-faced mother and her hungry children. On such scenes, though they may be all around us, few of us will look, and fewer still will heed the lesson which they should practically teach us, which is to see that our own families do do not come into similar situations. What proportion of our business men, of our mechanics, and teachers, our produce men and speculators, indeed of the whole community, would leave any provision for the support of their families, should death now call for them? Not one in ten. Debts and administrations would absorb all that has been accumulated, and leave only a heritage of sorrow and want to those loved best.

In other words, for at least nine-tenths of us, there is no way in which we can surely leave our families above immediate and pressing want, in case of death, except that of Life Insurance. That thanks to a kind Providence, and to the careful researches and deductions of scientific men, is a resource, of which, all or nearly all, can avail themselves. Every husband and father, who is in health and is earning a comfortable living, with a little economy or a little extra exertion, CAN IF HE WILL, make sure provision for his household. THREE CENTS a day insures a man twenty-eight years old, for $500; six CENTS, $1000, and in like proportion for other ages and amounts. Not one in one hundred is so poor, that he cannot save that amount for investment in such a worthy way, if he but chooses to make the effort. An extra cigar NOT smoked, a couple of glasses of lager NOT drank, a trip of pleasure forborne, a silk dress unbought, a trifling sacrifice of pride which shall not interfere one particle with real comfort, and the thing is done, without the crippling of business or the practice of any serious self-denial.

Let not the man who will not make so much effort and self-denial for the sake of his family, pretend that he would risk his own life and struggle manfully to save them were they struggling in the waves. If he will not do the less, would he do the greater? Let every true husband, let every true father, devote a few moments of patient thought and candid investigation to the subject, and then act as reason, experience and love would prompt, and he will go to some good Life Office—that of our own Home Company, for instance—and enroll his name among the hundreds of others, who have already seen and done their duty. He will sleep better, work more cheerfully, live longer and die easier for it. Thus much we honestly believe.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.—At a meeting of the members of the American Cornet Band, held at their room, on Thursday, September 13, 1860, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The late terrible calamity on Lake Michigan, by which the steamer Lady Elgin was destroyed, resulted in the death, among others, of the brothers Anton, Joseph and Frank Gomarick, who were associated over one and a half years with this Band, and Nickel brothers, leaders of the members, with one exception, of the Milwaukee City Band; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our companions we recognize one of the mysterious dispensations of Divine Providence, which no human power could avert, but which shall serve to remind us of the uncertainty of life in the suddenness with which they have been snatched from among us, and

Resolved, That a long intercourse with our deceased companions has endeared them to us by every tie by which friendship could bind heart to heart, and that during the long period they have been associated with us, we have found them ready and willing to perform their duty.

Resolved, That as musicians, we recognize in them talents of a high order of merit; and the places made vacant in the Band can never be filled by persons more admirably qualified, either in social or fraternal relations, than they.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish the remembrance of their many good qualities, and the many happy associations which have sprung up in our intercourse with them as brother musicians; and we trust the loss we so deeply feel may be the source of infinite gain to them.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the relatives and friends of our deceased brothers, and with the members of the Milwaukee City Band, and, as a testimonial of respect, the members of this Band will wear the usual badge of mourning for the period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be signed by the committee and presented to the families of the deceased, and that a copy also be furnished the city papers for publication.

MADISON, PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, LA CROSSE.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

LA CROSSE, Friday, Sept. 14, 1860.

My last letter gave a brief account of the Republican gathering at Madison, last Wednesday, to welcome Senator SEWARD. It was a great success and passed off to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. On Thursday morning Gov. SEWARD received his friends in the Executive Chamber.—Crowds flocked to see him, and among the visitors were the Madison Guards, all Irishmen and almost all democrats, who called upon him in a body to testify their respect. At 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon we left Madison for Prairie du Chien. At every station on the road numbers of people had collected to see and welcome the Senator from New York. Arriving at Prairie du Chien, shortly after 8 o'clock in the evening, we found the depot in a blaze of light from the torches of a spirited company of "Wide-Awakes." They received the Senator and his friends with hearty cheers, and piloted us to the landing, where lay the splendid steamer Milwaukee, Capt. COCHRANE, which had been kindly placed at our disposal by the Minnesota Packet Company. The "Wide Awakes" followed us on board, and were addressed by Senator SEWARD, Mr. ADAMS, General NYE and Senator DOOLITTLE; the speeches calling forth the heartiest applause.

At 10 o'clock, everything being ready, we cast loose from Prairie du Chien and proceeded up the Mississippi. The river was low and the night dark, but the skill of our pilot brought the Milwaukee along, all right. There was room, in her ample cabin, to accommodate all of our party most comfortably and the Clerk did not rest from his labors until he had all his guests cared for. We enjoyed a good night's rest on the Milwaukee and woke up to find ourselves "wooding," about twelve miles below La Crosse, where we did not wish to arrive before 9 A. M. Shortly after breakfast we resumed our upward course and when within four or five miles of La Crosse "Young America" (in charge of HARRY BINGHAM) uttered her loud signal note, which echoed and re-echoed from the lofty bluffs on either hand. Soon there came, borne upon the wings of the wind, an answering peal from La Crosse, and as our boat drew near to the city, gun after gun, from the shore and the steamer, told of our approach.

Arriving at the wharf, we found a fine looking company of "Wide Awakes," in full uniform, and a large concourse of people, assembled to greet Senator SEWARD.—He was introduced to the people and welcomed to La Crosse by Judge FLINT, in a very happy address, to which Mr. SEWARD made a suitable response. After a brief interval of rest, the party proceeded to the Augusta House, where, for an hour, or two, Senator SEWARD received the calls of his friends. At 2 o'clock the meeting organized on the County Fair Grounds, a very inviting spot, where several thousand people from La Crosse and the adjoining towns in Wisconsin and Minnesota, had gathered to hear our Republican missionaries. The speakers were Senator SEWARD, Gen. NYE, Mr. ADAMS and Senator DOOLITTLE. The speeches were all comparatively brief, but exceedingly effective, as the applause of the large and attentively listening audience abundantly testified. It was not until nearly dark that the meeting separated for the afternoon.

As soon as it was dark, the glare of torches in the streets and the brilliant flight of rockets and roman candles through the air, showed that all La Crosse was "Wide-Awake." A very fine procession, numerous, well-ordered, and composed of substantial looking men, paraded the town. There was excellent speaking done, in the evening, and a genuine enthusiasm manifested for the Republican cause. No man here doubts how Wisconsin is going to vote in November, and very few entertain the faintest hope of defeating LINCOLN. The demonstration at La Crosse has been highly creditable to the "Wide-Awake" and "go-ahead" town, and was greatly enjoyed by all of our party.

To-night we start for St. Paul, where Senator SEWARD and his friends expect to remain until Tuesday evening. Thence, retracing his steps, he goes to Dubuque, on his way to Kansas. Some of his party, however, will return eastward from St. Paul, and among this number is Gen. NYE, who has accepted the invitation of the Committee to deliver the Annual Address before our State Agricultural Society, at Madison, on the 28th of September, and hopes, in the interim, to find time to make three or four speeches in the Third Congressional District. I will endeavor, in my next, to give, as nearly as possible, the time when Gen. NYE may be expected to address the people there.

No news up this way, except increasing receipts of wheat from Minnesota, seeking shipment to Milwaukee. Minnesota has a large surplus of the best wheat to send to market and MILWAUKEE is the port of her preference.

The weather, to-night, threatens a storm. A good soaking rain would help navigation materially and hurt nothing. R. K.

THE WAUKEGAN MASS MEETING.—The Republican mass meeting at Waukegan on Friday last, was a most magnificent affair, the number of persons present is variously estimated from 7,000 to 12,000. Never was a more enthusiastic political gathering witnessed in the West. Banners waved from a majority of the house tops—from trees, and every conspicuous point. Triumphal arches were erected over the streets; bands of music enlivened the occasion, and shouts for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, went up from the assembled thousands. The procession was estimated five miles in length, and presented a continuous succession of banners. LOVEJOY and KNOX of Illinois, and EGGLESTON of Cincinnati, addressed the people in the afternoon; DOOLITTLE and Lt. Gov. NOBLE of Wisconsin in the evening. Besides the Germans were addressed by distinguished speakers in their own language, both afternoon and evening.

In the evening about two thousand Wide-Awakes, were out in torch-light processions there was also a magnificent display of fire works.

Republicanism in Missouri.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept 11, 1860.

MR. EDITOR:—Thinking that your readers would be pleased to know how the good cause prospers in this section, I take the liberty of dropping you a line. Since the State election, politics have been rather slow, but as November draws nearer, matters look up some. St. Louis has a large and powerful Wide Awake association. Last Saturday night was their first appearance in uniform; they paraded the principal streets, and thanks to their efficient commander, made a fine martial display. They then crossed the river to Illinoistown to assist in a Republican demonstration. Douglas Ruffianism soon created a disturbance, and several shots were fired into their ranks, but this was soon quelled and the meeting passed quietly off.

Yesterday, the 10th, was set for a grand Mass Meeting of Republicans at Ironton and Pilot Knob, the terminus of the Iron Mountain R. R. At 7 A. M., seven cars left the Plum Street Depot, completely jammed full of good LINCOLN men—all anxious to assist in the first great meeting of free men in the interior of a slave State.

Pilot Knob, is 88 miles from St. Louis, and in the centre of the iron country. Everything is Iron. Rocks, ledges and all—a fit place for the exposition of the Great Republican principles of a Tariff and Free Labor. We arrived at the Knob about noon, and after partaking of a hearty dinner, went on to Ironton, the county seat, where we found about a thousand people already assembled to listen to Republicanism, as set forth by our noble standard bearer, FRANK P. BLAIR, assisted by W. N. V BARY, who closed the meeting. The speaking was eloquent and concise—just the kind for the people down here who think Republicans and Abolitionists are all alike. Much ill-feeling was manifested at first, and some disturbance was created by Border Ruffians, but many listened quietly, and went away saying: "If this is Republicanism, we too, are Republicans."

At 5 P. M. we marched back to the Knob, where we were addressed by the President of the Iron Mountain R. R. Co., MADISON MILLER, Esq., who made some able remarks and cheered us on in our good fight. We then took the cars for home where we arrived about midnight.

Thus have we driven the opening wedge into the very heart of the rotten curse and hope ere long we shall be able to roll the fragments into one vast pile, touch the match and by the will of the people clear our fair country of this gnarled and noxious parasite. E. L. D.

Peter V. Sang, of Fond du Lac, a Republican.

It will be seen by the following letter from the Fond du Lac Commonwealth, that PETER V. SANG, so long known as a working Democrat, has come out right at last:

LAMARTINE, Sept. 10, 1860.

Eds. Commercial:—The question has frequently been asked me (of Republicans and Democrats,) within a few weeks past, as to my political sentiments at the coming campaign, &c.

I will briefly state that I have been a resident of the Territory and State of Wisconsin for twenty-six years past, eighteen years in this county, at my present place of abode.—Out of the eighteen years I have invariably voted the Democratic ticket, right or wrong, until last fall I voted for A. W. Randall and the balance of the Republican ticket, (save two men.) Next November I intend to vote for Abe Lincoln and Hamlin and the Republican ticket in general, and endeavor to do so for the next eighteen years to come, should I live that long. PETER V. SANG.

P. S. I hold an office under the present administration—i. e., Postmaster of Lamartine. I am ready for the guillotine.

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF CAPT. JOHN WILSON.—A very large and spontaneous meeting of the inhabitants of Coldwater, Michigan, to ck place on Tuesday last, the occasion being to give public expression of their deep sorrow at the untimely death of Captain JOHN WILSON, of the steamer Lady Elgin.

The committee on resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Coldwater, have heard with profound sorrow of the recent terrible disaster to the steamer Lady Elgin, by which her gallant commander, our esteemed fellow-citizen, Capt. John Wilson, has, with so many others, been taken away in the midst of his usefulness.

Resolved, That having known Capt. Wilson since his residence amongst us, as a high-minded, honorable man, an estimable citizen, a kind friend, and as one who, in his domestic and social relations was entitled to the respect and esteem of all who knew him, we deplore his sudden decease, not only as a public loss, but as a personal bereavement and affliction to ourselves, who were his neighbors and his friends.

Resolved, That while the heroic magnanimity displayed by Capt. Wilson in the trying scenes which closed his earthly career, by unselfish devotion to the welfare of his passengers, his self-sacrificing forgetfulness of his own safety in his efforts to secure the safety of others, are but the manifestations which we should expect from his noble manly heart and generous spirit in such an emergency of peril, they ought to enshrine his memory and preserve the recollection of his name not only in the community and among those who were his personal friends and acquaintance, but wherever the story of his heroism shall be told.

Resolved, That in this afflicting event our deep and earnest sympathy is extended to the family of our deceased friend, and our sincere hope and prayer is, that in the consolations of faith and religion, and in the sympathetic kindness of friends, they may find strength and support in this hour of overwhelming sorrow.

Resolved, That in the removal of Capt. Wilson, the marine service of our great lakes has lost a thoroughly and experienced sailor, a skilful and valuable officer, and a popular commander, whose place will not be easily supplied, and that in his relation to the business interests of our lake navigation, we regard his death as a great public calamity.

Resolved, That this great and deplorable catastrophe, which has been attended with so fearful a destruction of human life, and has brought grief to so many hearts, and wailing and lamentation to so many homes, calls for our tenderest sympathy with all who are partakers in the great affliction, and for an earnest prayer that He, in whose hands are the destinies of all, will sustain and comfort each of those in this time of dark bereavement.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this meeting be requested to transmit to the family of our deceased friend a copy of these resolutions, signed by himself and by the Chairman, and also that a copy be presented to each of the county papers of this village for publication, and that a copy of the paper containing such publication be sent by the Secretary to the leading journals of each of the cities of Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo, with a request that the same be republished in those cities.

THE SUFFERERS BY THE LADY ELGIN.—There is good reason to believe from the Steward's statement, and from other sources of information, that there were from three to four hundred people on board of that ill-fated vessel the night she went down. Of these, the greater portion were people in limited circumstances, and mostly with large families. It is estimated by good judges in Milwaukee that over one thousand orphans, so the Milwaukee Sentinel says, will be thrown on the world, and two hundred widows. This is probably the largest amount of distress that any city in the Union has ever known, if we except the city of Lawrence in the Lawrence Mill catastrophe. In view of these facts, we suggest a subscription list be op-ned, and a committee of active men named to collect donations. Already the members of the Musical Union have tendered their services to this laudable cause; this offer should be at once accepted, and we would further suggest that the performers of the Grand Requiem last evening, be solicited to repeat their last night's performance for the same noble object. Bryan's New Music Hall no doubt could be procured on favorable terms for so charitable an object. Who will begin the good work.—Chicago Democrat.

OBITUARY.—Lost on board the ill-fated Lady Elgin, on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 8th, James John Cosgrave, son of ex-Sheriff Cosgrave, of this city, aged 16 years, 5 months and 12 days. This young man was educated in the Public School in this city, and in his boyhood evinced a taste for learning. He made gratifying progress in acquiring an education, and at the age of 14 years, exhibited attainments in knowledge, much above the generality of youth of his age. He chose the profession of a printer, and had just completed an apprenticeship of two years, in the Free Democrat office, Milwaukee. He joined the excursion on the Lady Elgin, to enjoy a little relaxation from active labors, expecting to return with renewed energy, to his duties. But an all-wise Providence saw fit that he should never again return to enjoy his earthly friendships and the endearments of parents and of home. His body, at our latest advices, had not been recovered.—Kenosha Telegraph.

A SOMNAMBULIST ON THE CARS.—A gentleman a few days ago arose from a sleeping car on the Lake Shore Road this side of Erie, and the conductor saw him with eyes open, coat and boots off, but had no idea that he was asleep, and let him pass. He went on and opened the car door, the cars were at full speed, and the man asleep and alone, is on the platform. He goes down the steps, and—soon the conductor makes search for him everywhere through the train, but he was not to be found. A man was sent back on a horse car, and soon found him, not much injured, but a very mad man. The first consciousness the man had, he was twirling, tumbling and turning somersaults in the gravel, and the rattling train scudding away under a full moon as unconscious of his condition as he had been a minute before.—Buffalo Republic.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN PORT HOPE.

The Governor General Burnt in Effigy.

To the Editor of the Globe:

SIR:—In compliance with an invitation extended to the Orangemen as well as all other public bodies, by the General Reception Committee of Port Hope, to turn out and take part in the procession in honor of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the Orangemen of the District of Port Hope and the surrounding country made every preparation for that event.

When it became known that the Prince would not land in places where party colors were worn or party music played, particularly after he had passed Kingston, the inhabitants of the town generally were desirous that the Orangemen should yield their point and appear in the procession as ordinary citizens, without any of the insignia of the Order, although they at the same time admitted, nay more, affirmed by a resolution passed in a public meeting, that the Orangemen had been grossly insulted by the Duke of Newcastle, or whoever is responsible for the edict that was put forth. In deference to the wishes of those who are not members of the Order, and that not the slightest shadow should rest on their loyalty, the Orangemen gave way and the Prince of Wales was heartily welcomed by an immense multitude, among whom not a party ribbon or badge was to be seen. Everything passed off quietly and pleasantly.

But after the Prince and suite had left for Toronto, the excitement that had been so honorably suppressed by the Orangemen during the stay of His Royal Highness, could no longer be restrained.

About half-past seven o'clock, P. M., a band of music played through the town, and at eight o'clock an effigy of the Governor was carried at the head of a torch-light procession, through the principle streets to the market square, where it was placed on a huge bonfire and reduced to ashes, in sight of not less than five or six thousand people. The immense crowd gave three unearthly groans for the Governor, and same number of yells, for the Ministry. Three cheers were then given for the Queen, and three times three for the Prince of Wales. The proceedings terminated with three terrific cheers for George Brown, the exposer of the wrongs of Upper Canada.

Yours, &c.,
SPECTATOR.

Port Hope, Sept. 8, 1860.

THE LADY ELGIN DISASTER.—We know it is one of the easiest and cheapest things in the world to find fault,—and, while perusing such melancholy stories as that of the loss of the excursion steamer, "Lady Elgin," on Lake Michigan, it does not cost much to say, what ought to have been done, by the Captain and officers, to have saved some of the hundreds of unfortunate souls who found a watery grave in a few moments, after the collision. But there are one or two circumstances connected with that disaster, which seem to stand out in bold relief, as showing that there was culpable carelessness, certainly on the part of the owners of the boat, if not negligence on the part of the Captain and officers. We allude first, to the fact that though there were between three and four hundred persons on board the steamer, there were but three life boats found available. Now, each of these boats could probably accommodate twenty-five persons, at a pinch—so that provision was made for the saving of but some seventy-five or a hundred lives at most, in the event of accident.

It does not seem to have ever entered the heads of the owners of this boat that collision might occur, nor that three new boats would not accommodate three hundred and fifty human beings—and as for life preservers, it does not appear that they thought it worth while to have one on board! Hence they loaded her with men, women and children—in the regular way—and after taking their passage money, sent them adrift, on a dark, rainy night, trusting to Providence to see them safely through their "pleasure excursion" and bring them safely back to their homes. God in his mercy, it may be, saw fit to destroy that ill-fated boat, and her unfortunate passengers—if only to quicken the apprehension of a startling truth—the truth, namely, that there are scores of other steamers on the inland waters of the United States, carrying thousands and thousands of passengers, to-day, with no better provision for saving life, in the event of mishap, than the "Lady Elgin" had. If the appalling sacrifice of human life on Lake Michigan can do anything to induce a remedy for this criminal negligence, some little good will have come of a great evil; and many of the unfortunate beings who went down in that wreck will not have had their lives thrown away wholly in vain.—N. Y. Express.

MOZART'S REQUIEM MASS IN CHICAGO—A TRIBUTE TO MR. BALATKA.—The performance of this grand and solemn mass at the Church of the Holy Name, last evening, called out a very large and appreciative audience. We have never before, in Chicago, witnessed a musical performance of equal length, when people did not leave the house before the music reached its close. Such was not the case last night. The audience was hushed to perfect silence throughout, and as the tragic and awful notes of the Dies-irae, or the sublime tones of other choruses, filled the cathedral, not even the rustle of a garment interrupted a listner.

The choral and orchestral parts were performed in a style of remarkable excellence, and evinced the superior ability of the director, Mr. Balatka, as well as the perfection of the musicians. In the quartettes, the fine soprano voice of Emilia Garthe was heard to the best advantage, and Mr. De Passio, ever excellent, surpassed himself on this occasion.

The excellence of the performance was due in a great measure to the leader. Mr. Balatka is undoubtedly the best, and much the best, musical director in the western country. We hear some talk of his being induced to come here and assume the position as director in the Choral Association, in case the movement now on foot to organize such an association shall be successful. We sincerely hope that it may be.

We but express the wish of every one who listened to the Requiem last night when we suggest that its performance be repeated. We would also suggest the propriety of giving it once at least, in the New Music Hall, instead of the church. The latter, perhaps, may be more appropriate to the sentiment of music; but it is somewhat out of the way.—Chicago Times & Herald, 14th.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.—A HIGH COMPLIMENT.—A very pleasant thing occurred in the Executive Room yesterday. Gov. Seward was there receiving his friends, when the "Madison Guard," under command of Capt. Bryant, appeared, in full uniform, to pay their respects to the distinguished Senator. A perfect line was formed by this excellent company, and Gov. Seward was introduced to them and took each member cordially by the hand, and expressed himself highly gratified with the compliment, and especially so, as he understood that most of the members of the company were Democrats. To this Col. Tom. Reynolds replied, that they were not all exactly Democrats, but he could assure him that they were all Seward men. To a remark of the Senator that they were all foreigners, Mr. Reynolds ironically replied, that it was true that they were all fortunate enough to have been born in a foreign country, except the Captain,—he had the misfortune to be born in the United States; but as he was a very clever fellow, they were proud of him!—The idea of this ceremony was an excellent one, and the whole thing was carried out in superior style. The whole affair was as creditable to the company, as it was complimentary to the distinguished statesman it was intended to honor.—Madison Journal.

A CIRCUS COMPANY IN CHURCH.—While Lent's Circus Company was stopping over at Churchville last Sunday, says the Rochester Democrat, Eld. George Balcom, Pastor of the Baptist Church there, sent a written invitation for the company (of 39 men, women and children,) or as many of them as convenient, without regard to dress, to attend his preaching, at either or all three of his services during the day and evening.—The manager notified all of the invitation, and requested them to go, and went himself, with about a score or more of the company, both in the afternoon and evening service. They conducted themselves with respect, and appeared to be highly entertained, although some of the said they had not been to church in 14 years.

HALF A MILLION FOR A COPPER MINE.—Messrs. C. S. Cook and St. John Smith, of Portland, and Mr. Pope and another gentleman from Canada, have purchased the Acton Copper Mines, situated at Acton, C. E., about forty miles from the Brampton saw mills of Messrs. C. S. Cook & Co. The price agreed upon was half a million of dollars, one hundred thousand of which was paid down in cash, upon delivery of the deeds of conveyance.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

NO MORE SHALL THE POOR SUFFERERS in our country languish, their constitutions racked and torn by strong and dangerous mineral medicines; they will come to the fountain of health, found in simple herbs and roots from nature's storehouse. THE MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS, of innocent mountain plants compound, will reach and stop their distress, and cause the blood, renewed and cleansed, to carry through the body the elements of health; building up the broken constitution and carrying life and health, where but for them would have been the wreck of hope—the feeble moan of sufferer, at last ended by the cold hand of death. Do no let prejudice overcome your better reason; do not look upon these Pills as only like others; do not let your desp ir, after trying everything else, prevent you from trying them. The blood must be pure, and then sickness is impossible.—What a great and yet simple truth is this! it appeals to the common sense of all; it is the great key-stone of the healing art. JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS will purify and cleanse it as sure as the sun will rise to-morrow.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers. aug13d1ildaweowlm

Address of Hon. Geo. Bancroft, at the Inauguration of the Perry Monument.

Men of Ohio!

Fellow Citizens of the United States:

The defence of our country is not a burden to be shunned; but an inalienable right which we are to assert, and a sacred duty which we are to fulfill. The heroic deeds of those who, in many a battle, have stood up for the moral existence of a nation, and given the greatest proof of their love for it by perilling their lives in its defence, deserve to be commemorated by works of art, that the evidence of their virtue may be ever present to the eye of the people. By our willing sympathy with their efforts, we make their glory our own; by contemplating their actions with love, we renew in our own breasts the just courage with which they glowed, and gain the ennobling consciousness that we too have the power within us to imitate their example.

Citizens of Cleveland, executing a purpose which had its origin in their own municipal government, cheered by the patriotic zeal of an artist who is a native of their State, and sustained by the confiding energy of their spirited contractors, have raised the monument which has just been unveiled. Before the myriads here assembled this statue is now dedicated to the Union, in the name of the people of Ohio.

The inhabitants of this Commonwealth are by descent of common blood with nearly all older United States, and all the most civilized countries of the world. The homes of their ancestors is to found in the Old Dominion and all the States to the north of it, in the British Isles and Ireland, in the Iberian peninsula, in France, in Italy, and of the Continental States, especially in Germany; so that in addition to the mysterious affinity of human nature with truth and freedom, no word can be uttered in any part of the cultivated world of right and liberty, but you may claim it in a family interest of your own. It is the sons of your forefathers of whom you expect that the tomb and birthplace of Virgil will be secured to the guardianship of the free; it is your brothers and your kindred, who are to take the only worthy vengeance for what our revolutionary forefathers suffered from the petty princes of a now fallen empire, by inciting and teaching its immortal people to construct free and united Germany.

Ohio rises before the world as the majestic witness to the beneficent reality of the Democratic principle. A commonwealth, younger in years than he who addresses you, not long ago having no visible existence but in the emigrant wagons, now numbers almost as large a population as that of all England, when it gave birth to Raleigh, Bacon, Cromwell and Shakspeare, and began its continuous attempts at colonizing America. Each one of her inhabitants gladdens in the fruits of his own soil. She possesses wealth that must be computed by thousands of millions, and her frugal, industrious and benevolent people, at once daring and prudent, unfettered in the use of their faculties, restless in enterprise, do not squander the accumulations of their industry in vain show, but ever go on to render the earth more productive, more beautiful and more convenient to man; mastering for mechanic purposes the unwasting forces of nature; keeping exemplary good faith with their public creditors; building in half a century more churches than all England has raised since this continent was discovered; endowing and sustaining universities and other seminaries of learning.

Conscious of the dynamic power of the mind in action as the best of fortresses, Ohio keeps no standing army but that of her school teachers, of whom she pays more than twenty thousand; she counts among her citizens more than 800,000 men who can bear arms, and she has more than twice that number of children registered as students in her public schools. Here the purity of domestic morals is maintained by the virtue and dignity of women. In the heart of the temperate zone of this continent, in the land of corn, of wheat and the vine; the eldest daughter of the ordinance of seventeen hundred and eighty-seven, already the young mother of other commonwealths that bid fair to vie with her beauty, rises in her loveliness and glory, crowned with cities, and challenges the admiration of the world.—Hitherto should come the political sceptic, who in dispair is ready to strand the ship of State; for here he may learn to guide it safely on the waters. Should some modern Telemachus, heir to an island empire, touch these shores, here he may observe the vitality and strength of the principle of popular power; take from the book of experience the lesson that in public affairs great and happy results follow in proportion to faith in the efficacy of that principle; and learn to rebuke ill-advised counsellors who pronounce the most momentous and most certain of political truths a delusion and a failure.

This anniversary of the great action of Oliver Hazard Perry is set apart for inaugurating a monument to his fame. Who has not heard how gallantly, forty-seven years ago, the young hero, still weak from a wasting fever, led his squadron to battle? As if shielded by a higher power, he encountered death on his right hand, death on his left, ever in advance, almost alone for two hours fighting his ship, till it became a wreck, so that but one of its guns could be used no longer, and more than four-fifths of his crew lay around him wounded or killed; then, unharmed, standing as beseemed his spirit, he passed in a boat to the uninjured Niagara, unfurled his flag, bore down within pistol-shot of his enemy, poured into them broad sides starboard and broadsides port, and while the sun was still high above the horizon, left no office to be done but that of mercy to the vanquished. If the comparison does not seem fanciful, I will call his conduct during those eventful hours a complete lyric poem, perfect in all its parts. Though he was carried away and raised above himself by the power with which he was possessed, the passion of his inspiration was tempered by the serene self-possession of his faultless courage; his will had the winged rapidity of fiery thought, and yet observed with deliberteness the combination of harmony and the proportions of measured order.

Nor may you omit due honors to the virtues of the unrecorded dead; not as mourners who require consolation, but with a clear conception of the glory of their end. The debt of nature all must pay. To die, if need be, in defence of the country is a common obligation; it is granted to few to exchange life for a victory so full of benefits to their fellow men. These are the disinterested, unnamed martyrs, who, without hope of name and gain, gave up their lives in testimony to the all-pervading love of country, and left to our statesmen the lesson to demand of others nothing but what is right and to submit to no wrong.

"We have met the enemy," were Perry's words as he reported the result of the battle. And who was that enemy? A nation speaking another tongue? A state abandoned to the caprices of despotism? No! they were the nation from whom most of us sprung, using the same copious language, cherishing after their fashion the love of liberty, enjoying internally the freest government that the world had known before our own. But the external policy of their government had been less controlled by regard for right than their domestic administration; and a series of wanton aggressions upon us, useless to England, condemned now by her own statesmen and judges as violations of the law of nations, forced into conflict two peoples whose common sympathies should never have been disturbed. And is this aggressive spirit to be adventured by her rulers? How long is this overshadowing aristocratic element in her government to stand between the national affections of kindreds and nations?

Even now a British minister, whose past career gave hope of greater fairness, renewing the old system of experiments on the possible contingency of the pusillanimity, the indifference, or the ignorance of some future American administration, and disputes the boundary in the Northwest, though the words of the treaty are too plain to be perverted, and though the United States claims no more than the British Secretary of State, who offered the treaty, explained as its meaning before it was signed. British soldiers are now encamped on part of our territory which bears the name of Washington. With a moderation that should have commanded respect, the United States waived their better claim to Vancouver, and even to any part of it, thinking it conducive to peace to avoid two jurisdictions on different parts of the same island; and in returning for his forbearance, the British Minister, yielding perhaps to some selfish clamor of a trading company, as much against British interests as against American rights, reproduces on an American island the inconvenience of divided occupation, which it was the very purpose of the treaty to avoid.

If the hum of the American seaboard is in part the echo of sentiments from abroad, here the unmixed voice of America may be heard, as it pronounces that it is too late to wrest the Territory from the United States by prevarication, by menace, or by force—from the English dockyards it is a long voyage to San Juan; the only good land route across the continent lies south of Lake Superior; in a few years there will be three Ohios on the shores of the Pacific. It is England's interest as well as duty to give effect to the treaty as it was interpreted by her own ministers to ours. Your voices on this memorable day give the instructions to our own Government to abide by the treaty faithfully, on the condition that Britain will do the same; but the treaty must bind neither party or both—must be executed in good faith or cancelled. The men who honor the name of Perry will always know how to defend the domain of their country.

Has any European statesman been miscounting the strength of this nation by substituting a reminiscence of our old feeble confederation for the present efficient and almost perfect organism of the body politic? Has any foreign ruler been so foolish as to listen with credulity to the tales of impending disunion? Every man of the people of Ohio, this great central highway of national travel, will, without one exception, tell the calumniator or the unbeliever that the voices of discontent among us are but the evanescent vapors of men's breath; that our little domestic strifes are no more than momentary disturbances on the surface, easily settled by ourselves; that the love of Union has wound its cords indissolubly round the whole American people.

So then our last word shall be for the Union. The Union will guarantee the fame of its defenders, and evermore protect our entire Territory; it will keep alive for mankind the beacon lights of popular liberty and power; it will dissuade nations in a state of unripeness from attempting to found Republican governments before they spring up naturally by inward law; and its mighty heart will throb with delight at every true advance in any part of the world toward Republican happiness and freedom.

SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE.

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising sauce, invented by the celebrated Soyer, for the London Reform Club, is, since its first opening, rapidly taking the well known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, as the favorite sauce in England and on the Continent, with a consequent promulgation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONS. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe, its flavor is exceedingly rich, and it admirably blends in taste or flavor the most delicious PIQUANCY WITH DIGESTION.—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer.—The Globe.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Morning Post.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—8 P. M.

A suit has been brought by F. O. Smith against Prof. Morse, to recover five sixteenths of the amount of money received by Prof. Morse from the different governments of Europe, for the use of the telegraph. The parties have been connected together in the telegraph business for some twenty years, and some time since a settlement was made between them, when Mr. Smith received $30,000, and matters were left over for suit or reference, of which this is one. The hearing is not finished. The referees are Judge Sprague, Upham and Hillard.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15—8 P. M.

A Bell and Everett meeting in the First Congressional District was interrupted by Republican Clubs marching through the meeting. A fight ensued, and stones and pistols were used. The meeting was finally dispersed. Nine rioters were arrested. No one was seriously injured as far as known. It is supposed that the affair was in retaliation for a disturbance perpetrated by parties harrahing for Bell and Everett at the Republican meeting.

In my negroes I have property rights. In the Union, I have political rights, and I will not be the coward or the slave to give up the one in order to preserve the other—and I will give up neither, and will fight to the last rather than either shall be assailed or destroyed. In any event, we are on the eve of a revolution and the question is simply, shall it be peaceful only by our base submission to insult and outrage? If you will fight, the Union will be saved.

SIX HUNDRED AND FORTY ACRES of land in the State of Wisconsin, a gentleman is here from Kansas, who owns the aforesaid land, which he purchased several years ago. He wants to exchange it for some description of goods, viz: Clothing or Dry Goods, Hardware Notions or Boots and Shoes—such goods as he can take with him to Kansas to trade off for land. The lands which he owns in this State are of the first quality, and he will sell them low. The title to them is perfect—free from a land every encumbrance whatever.

City Auction Room and Land Office

GRAND CHANCE TO SECURE A HOME upon such terms that any one who has any industry can do it. Mr. Gliddon, who owns one-half of Lockwood & Gliddon's Addition, has made me his agent, to sell the lots in said Addition, at unusually low prices, to any one who will improve them, and upon such terms that any poor man can meet. It is unnecessary to go into argument to convince one who has any judgment that this property, which is situated directly in the city, will be the most desirable residence property in the city of Milwaukee. It is full view of the Lake and on high ground, where a more pleasant and more healthy situation cannot be found. Its location for business men is very desirable, the Horse Railroad passing through it, and but fifteen minutes' ride. Much more could be said about this valuable property, but we will only say, any persons who have any desire to purchase any of said lots, if they will call at my office they can see a map, and I will go with them and show them the lots, and then call again for themselves. The terms on which said lots will be sold are as follows: Ten per cent. in twelve months; 15 per cent. in two years; and 25 per cent. every year thereafter, with the amount is paid, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, interest not to commence until six months after the date of purchase. Here is a chance never before offered, and there is every reason to believe that this property will advance 100 per cent. in less than twelve months. The great advantage of the Horse Railroad must, and will make it very desirable. The Lots are free from all encumbrance whatever.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., September 15, 1860.

We can truthfully report an active business with our banks, as in nearly all departments of trade during the past week. The demand for currency to move the wheat has been unusually large, but with the exception of one day the market has exhibited no signs of stringency. The supply of Eastern Exchange is so abundant that the banks are not paying any premium for it. They are selling at ¾ @ ¾ cent, while it can be bought on the street at ¼@¾ ₱ cent.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The demand for Eastern exchange to-day was greater than the supply, and rates were consequently firm. On the street ¼ per cent. premium was freely paid, and to some instances ½ per cent. There is no change in bank rates; but the bankers are selling only to their customers at ¼ per cent.

The unsettled state of the grain markets causes shippers to hold off for the present, and there is a more limited demand for currency.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., Sept. 15, 1860.

The wheat market was rather dull and unsettled to-day, and closed at a decline of 2@3c on all grades. Early, there were a few sales at yesterday's prices, but the market soon settled down to 85c for No. 1 spring in store, and 83c for No. 2. The sales were not large, sellers generally holding at higher figures, and on "Change some parties who were "shore" had to pay as high as 89 and 90c for a few thousand bushels.—There were plenty of sellers at 90c, but no shippers in the market above 88c. These prices are 7@10c lower than the figures reached in the beginning of the week, and this heavy decline is brought about mainly by the news of a more favorable change in the weather in England, and the consequent depreciation of breadstuffs in English markets.

The receipts by railroad here for the week are something better than five hundred thousand bushels, and for the past two weeks upwards of a MILLION of bushels. The shipments for the week ending to-day are upwards of seven hundred thousand bushels including a few thousand barrels of flour.

The flour market had been tolerably active for a few days, but to-day was dull, buyers having withdrawn on account of the unsettled state of the markets east. The principal sales have been at a range of $5@5,30 for good to choice Extras, but these prices are fully 20c above the present views of dealers.

Grain freights to day were dull, shippers not anxious to make engagements, and but few vessels in port.—The going rates are about 16c for wheat by sail to Buffalo, and 28c to Oswego. The rates on flour to New York by propeller and rail are $1, 15, and to Portland and Boston via the D. & M. and Grand Trunk Railways the same. The rate via Albany to Boston is $1,80. Pretty much all the flour being shipped from this city now is taking the other route for the Portland and New England markets.

The following tables will show the receipts and shipments of flour and grain for the past week, the sources of supply and points of destination:

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The receipts of wheat amounted to 179,033 bus, and the the shipments 194,000 bush. The market to-day was irregular and heavy—prices at the close showing a decline of 5@6c ₱ bus. At the opening there was a good shipping inquiry, and No. 1 Spring was sold at 91c, and No. 2 Spring at 86c; but as soon as the New York market was telegraphed the market became flat and heavy; and later when the steamer was announced, with a decline of 3@4d—quite a panic took place, and No. 1 Spring sank to 86c, and No. 2 to 81c—closing quiet. About 17,000 bus obtained bids at 86@91c for No. 1 Spring in store; 80@85c for No. 2 Spring; and 79@80c for Rejected. There was a fair inquiry for choice brands of Spring extra, and prices of such showed no visible change, though the buyers were few; but ordinary and medium grades were heavy and 5@10c lower. About 1,500 bbls changed hands at $4,00@5,25 for good to choice Spring extras, and $5,40@5,80 for Red to fine Winter. There was a more active shipping demand for corn, and the market was firmer, with sales of about 75,000 bus, at 37½@38½c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 37¾@38c for No. 1; and 36¾@37c for No. 2. Oats were dull and nominal. Rye quiet, but firm. Barley dull. Timothy Seed inactive, but firm, with limited transactions, at $1 90@2,00.—Highwines firm at 21c. Alcohol, 41@43c. Mess pork $10,50, with sales to the trade at that figure.—There was an active inquiry for Flax Seed by manufacturers, and $1,25 is offered for prime qualities.

Freights were steady and more active at 16c for wheat to Buffalo by sail, and 18½c by propeller; 22½ by sail to Oswego, and 11c to Port Sarnia.

Milwaukee Live Stock Market.

SATURDAY P. M., Sept. 15th, 1860.

The arrivals of live stock have been moderate, footing up for the week about 900 head beef cattle, and not beyond the ordinary supply of sheep and hogs. The beef cattle offered for sale were mostly medium sized, generally bringing from $2 to $2,50 ₱ 100 lbs live weight. A few head of prime cattle sold as high as $3. The packing season will commence about the 1st of the coming month. Our packers have better facilities now than they have ever before had, and consequently expect to cut a much larger number than in any previous season. Live hogs have been firm and in good demand at $5,25@5,50 ₱ cwt. A lot of 53, averaging 207 lbs, sold yesterday at $5,37½. More or less sales were made at all the yards, but we have only a report of the sales at that of J. & G. ADAMS, of Clybourn street, as follows:

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

(FOR WEEK ENDING SEPT. 14TH, 1860.)

The following statement shows the receipts of lumber, shingles and lath for the past two weeks, and for the season to date:

	This week.	Last week.	For season.
Lumber, feet	415,000	1,010,000	21,540,000
Lath, ₱	50,000	150,000	4,620,000
Shingles	50,000	———	10,340,000

Receipts continue to diminish, notwithstanding the high prices, which, it was thought, would call out a more liberal supply. One reason why so little seeks this market is that our dealers do not offer as much as Chicago dealers, and consequently Chicago takes the lumber. Prices at the yards have advanced however, and are firm at quotations:

Among cargo sales are the following:

Schr. Napoleon, Manistee, at $9,50;

Two cargoes to arrive from Depere $10;

Schr. Undine, Two Rivers, on p. t., but said to be at $9,50.

Good cargoes are scarce and much sought for.

We are indebted to Messrs. HOUGHTON BROS., lumber dealers, corner of Third and Tamarack streets, for the following list of yard prices:

The British Corn Trade.

From the Mark Lane Express, Aug. 27.

The past week opened somewhat more favorably, and for two days with a little caution. This served to advance the sweep, so we left as to give occasional opportunities for farmers to proceed with the carrying of their hay. The renewal of heavy rains at a very critical period has placed the harvest in extreme jeopardy, and already done considerable damage to wheat, barley and peas. But little wheat was cut before the rain, and this is now exposed with other grain. Under such calamitous circumstances not only is the agricultural interest threatened with seriously heavy losses, but a national calamity is imminent, unless a wise Providence interpose. The early country markets were little affected; but later in the week prices were fully 2s per qr higher for wheat; while the town millers, through sheer necessity, have found it necessary to protect themselves by so extraordinary an advance as 6s per sack on flour.

The Northern parts of France and Europe having also experienced the same unfavorable weather, almost every market in these countries has risen, and, without any special shortage, not only England, but nearly half of Europe, will be threatened in its vital interests. The vigilant Government of France has already issued a decree for the nation's benefit, authorizing the import of grain and flour at the minimum duty up to the 15th o September, 1861. This is about 5s per qr, or two thirds of the duty payable here. Such a measure, while it goes to secure France, some say shakes the security of
